

Did You Know...

Active Member Contribution Beneficiaries

Life happens – Marriage, Children, Divorce, Death. It is important to make sure that your beneficiaries are always up to date.

Contributions paid to the Retirement Fund are part of your gross earnings. In the event of a premature death, your beneficiary on file takes precedent and any positive balance of your contributions will be paid to them (unless you have a valid survivorship benefit enacted), regardless of what is stated in a will or other legal document.

Have you gotten married and still have a parent listed as a beneficiary, or have you divorced and still have an ex-spouse listed as a beneficiary. Did you have a child? Minor children are also valid beneficiaries. Do you need to make a change to your beneficiary? If so, please fill out the beneficiary form today.

Please Note: Beneficiary forms replace the form on file, so please fill it out completely.
