

Talismans

July and August 2013

Life can break your heart.

Life can break you once before you get strong.

Accept, live, stay strong.

I am the King Lion.

Strength, victory and a man.

Aaron S.

Shuman Summer 2013 Art Program

Teachers: Gerry Florida and Sherrard Bostwick

Talismans
July and August 2013

Front

Back

Finding Yourself:

To find the real you have to find the real problem. I made this as a mirror image for my son (Deron Jr.)

As he models after me to become a man.

Deron T.

Shuman Summer 2013 Art Program

Teachers: Gerry Florida and Sherrard Bostwick

Talismans

July and August 2013

This necklace has a lot of meaning...one is on the back which means despite the wrong I have done, I want my son to be a mirror image of me and that my son is my motivation . He changed my life a lot and I'm gonna be a great father to my great son.

Dmetrie M.

Shuman Summer 2013 Art Program

Teachers: Gerry Florida and Sherrard Bostwick

Talismans

July and August 2013

I chose to make that piece for my mom. She past away 6 years ago and I wanted something I can put on her pictures to show I still think about her.

Shannon F.

Shuman Summer 2013 Art Program

Teachers: Gerry Florida and Sherrard Bostwick

Talismans

July and August 2013

I made this piece because everyone deserves a second chance. G-d does love us all and we can redeem ourselves. Inside my scroll I wrote a prayer in Hebrew to represent my heritage and my religion.

Stacey E.

Shuman Summer 2013 Art Program

Teachers: Gerry Florida and Sherrard Bostwick